

Exhibit B Maps, Plans and CADD Files

January 2003

This Exhibit includes frequently asked questions regarding the acquisition of plans, maps or CADD files:

The Airport Department shall not assume any liability for the accuracy of information shown on airport-provided construction or as-built drawings or other technical documentation. As such, any utility lines, known or unknown, that are damaged by a Tenant's contractor or his subcontractor during the course of his work shall become the obligation of the Tenant Contractor to repair and return to working service as soon as possible. Such repair work shall be at no cost to the Airport Department.

- 1. How do I get an electronic CADD file of the building or area I am interested in?
 - Email the request to the Airport Engineering Section – Mapping Group. Specify whether you want .dxf format or Microstation .dgn format. The Airport uses Microstation. Send the request to Lysee Moyaert, the Senior Geographic Systems Specialist, at:
Lmoyaert@sjc.org
 - Airport staff will reply with a .dxf format file for use with AutoCAD or a .dgn file if you requested it for Microstation use.
 - Note that the CADD file does not represent the as-built of the facility. The engineer is still responsible for reviewing plans in the airport engineering offices and conducting a site visit.

- 2. I need to get a copy of the plans. How do I do this?
 - Submit a request for plans to the assigned Airport Project Coordinator for the project. This assumes that the project has already received Preliminary Concept approval. If not, submit the request to your Airport Property Manager.
 - If the request is for several pages of plans and includes very specific items, the tenant architect or engineer is requested to schedule an appointment to come to the Airport offices and review electronic versions of the plans from a dedicated work station. The image viewer of the plans will permit the list of plans to be collected and burned onto a CD-ROM. Also, hard copies of the plans may be made on site.

- 3. Is there a fee for these services?
 - At this time, there are no fees for these services. Blank CD-ROM's will be available at the workstation and a reasonable amount of hard copies of plans could be made.

- 4. Are plans available on line?
 - No, and no current effort is being made to do so due to security reasons.

- 5. Whom do I call if there are more questions?
 - If there are any other questions, contact the designated Airport Property Manager for the tenant.
